Sod turned for new major business

By Irene Magnusson

Donna and Doug McPherson, of Nova B. Ltd., proudly announced last week that a contract has been awarded to Farmstead Builders (Lloydminster) Ltd., for the construction of a 13,198 square foot auto centre in Elk Point.

Lakeland Tire, Ultimate Glass & Upholstery and a Bumper to Bumper Store, complete with a 4-Bay service centre will be locating in the new facility, which will be operational in October of 1987. The new Auto Centre will provide Elk Point with much-needed service in these areas. Complimenting the Auto Centre will be a Mini Food-Mart with all convenience store facilities, as well as a full-service Texaco gasoline outlet.

The new facility will be a Butler low profile pre-engineered steel building, 85' wide by 155' long by 20' high. The new building will feature a "standing seam roof" which is mechanically sealed to the structural system. Walls will be constructed of concrete block, with fascia and trim fabricated by Buildings by Klingers, an associated company.

Farmstead's Project Manager, Gary Loewen, advised the Lakeland Review that engineering details are being finalized and foundation work will start approximately July 20, 1987.

Assuming reasonable weather conditions, the facility will be completed in early October.

Engineering and Inspection service is provided by B. Davison Engineering of Edmonton.

The owner of Elk Point Bumper to Bumper store, Mr. Bill Hayman, states they are pleased to be participants in the new automotive venture. The complex as a whole will offer a complete range of automotive services, from a fast oil change, tires, gas and oil, to wheel alignments, tune-ups, exhaust work and engine rebuilding - in fact any repair that the motoring public requires will be available.

"Our portion of this complex will contain 3600 square feet of retail store space," he stated, "and will be connected to a four bay service area which will be known as The Bumper to Bumper One-Stop Service Centre. We feel this is the natural evolution of our business, from being a supplier of parts only, to being both a supplier of parts and also able to offer an installation and full repair service area within the same building."

"The retail automotive and parts area will be double the size of our downtown location," he said, "allowing us to improve both display and range of products in stock."

Improved parking will be another convenience for their customers, Bumper to Bumper pointed out.

John and Kaye Wozniak, of Texaco Products, were pleased to see the new facility locate just north of their service outlet, and stated they will be supplying gas for the new project.

"On behalf of Texaco Canada Ltd. and ourselves John Wozniak, Texaco Bulk Sales, we'd like to welcome Elk Point Auto Centre to their new business in Elk Point," the couple said.

The new business on the Elk Point Industrial Subdivision will give extended service and more employment opportunities to Elk Point and district residents, Wozniak added.

SATURDAY, JULY 11, 1987 — Saw the breaking of the sod for first work on a large new facility, to be opened in the fall. Crystal McPherson, daughter of owners Donna and Doug McPherson, had the honor of wielding the gold-painted shovel to indicate that work has begun on her parents' Auto Centre in the Industrial Park, east of Highway 41. The new complex is expected to be open in the fall of this year. On hand for the ceremony were the owners, Deputy Mayor Marshall Kachmar, business neighbors John and Kaye Wozniak, Project Manager Gary Loewen, Bumper to Bumper owner Bill Hayman and other involved persons.

Recreation, roads on long Town Council agenda

A lengthy meeting of Elk Point Town Council Monday evening included many recreation and road items on its agenda.

A total of $20,624 in Community Recreation and Cultural grant funding is to be distributed by the Town, with the Historical Society to receive $5,000, the Pioneer Circle $4,500, Municipal Library $1,000, Parent Nursery $875 and Minor Baseball $812. The remaining $8,437 will go to the Town's Recreation Board. An application by the Lions Club was rejected, with that group now applying for finances for their project under another grant program.

A $2,000 slice of the Recreation Board's grant will be matched from Town coffers, and will go toward equipment for a neighborhood playground to be developed at 58 Avenue and 51A Street, in the North Subdivision. Two lots have been allocated for the playground, on which residents of the area have volunteered to carry out the work.

Six names submitted by the Recreation Committee were approved by Council. These individuals will now be invited to sit on the Municipal Recreation Board with 3 of those willing to be chosen for the Board.

An addendum to the recreation land lease agreement with the Golf and Country Club was reviewed and approved by Council. Further discussion of three-phase versus one-phase power ensued, with no decision made pending the determination of relative costs.

A bid by Shamrock Valley Enterprises in the amount of $2,000 for right-of-way clearing on the recreation land power line site was accepted by Council.

Concerns with steep approaches, sidewalks, curbs and gutters, and road gravel were discussed at some length. The curb and gutter installed on 57 Avenue is from 8" to 12" too high in some areas, due to engineering problems. DeL Can Engineering Ltd. has offered to pay for replacement of these, and Council agreed to accept their offer.

Council also agreed to follow through on plans to establish no parking zones on both sides of 57 Avenue from 51 Street to Highway 41, and on the west side of 50 Street from 51 Avenue to 55 Avenue, due to the width of the road surfaces. Signage will be erected on these thoroughfares as soon as landscaping is complete.

A rule that all employees and passengers in Town owned vehicles equipped with seat belts will buckle up will be added to the employee's policy handbook.

A progress payment of $234,035 on Highway 41 was approved, while a progress payment on utility line and street reconstruction went to committee for further discussion.

Purchase of a portion of a residential lot upon which a lane encroaches also went to further study by the Public Works and Finance Committees.

Road construction has left steep approaches to several areas, including at least one residence and the Elementary School. This will be looked into by the Public Works Department.

A claim that highway construction materials were stored on private property without permission was referred back to the property owner, with the suggestion that the contractor be contacted in this regard.

The Town met with representatives of the County of St. Paul on July 3 to discuss firefighting procedures and concerns. Coun-

Salute to an octogenerian

By Irene Magnusson

July 4th was a time of celebration for others than citizens of the U.S.A., as the family of Claudia McGinnis gathered in the Stoney Lake Community Hall to commemorate this lively local lady's 80th Birthday.

Family and friends from far and near joined in well-wishing and visiting over a delicious buffet luncheon, while a giant birthday cake, complete with a family tree (decorated by granddaughter Deana) waited front and centre to be cut and shared.

Missing from the family circle, unfortunately, were Claudia's eldest daughter, Gladys, and her first son, Kenneth (Buck), both deceased. Kenneth's wife, Mary Ann, was there, along with daughters Bertha and Allen Fakeley, Mara and Roger O'D (O'Driscoll), Mavis and John Zaraska, Linda and 'Red' Campbell, Donna McGinnis, and son Keith and Kelly McGinnis. Claudia's family also consists of twenty-three grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. A special niece, Toni Armstrong, of Edson, Alberta, also was in attendance, along with numerous others, to bulge the little hall with close to two hundred merry-makers.

Claudia, looking lovely, her appearance belying the "80" on her cake, greeted all with her usual smile.

Born in Gaspé, Quebec, July 9, 1907, to parents Joseph and Jean LaFlamme, Claudia came with her family to the Lac Bellevue area at the age of six years. She attended school at Lac Bellevue and enjoyed life on the farm with her family.

In 1928 Claudia met her future husband, Reece McGinnis, and three years later they were married at St. Brides, on November 19, 1931. They lived on the farm in the Stoney Lake area together for 49 happy years, raising eight children - and a lot of farm produce. In 1980 Reece passed away.

Claudia lives on in the farm home.

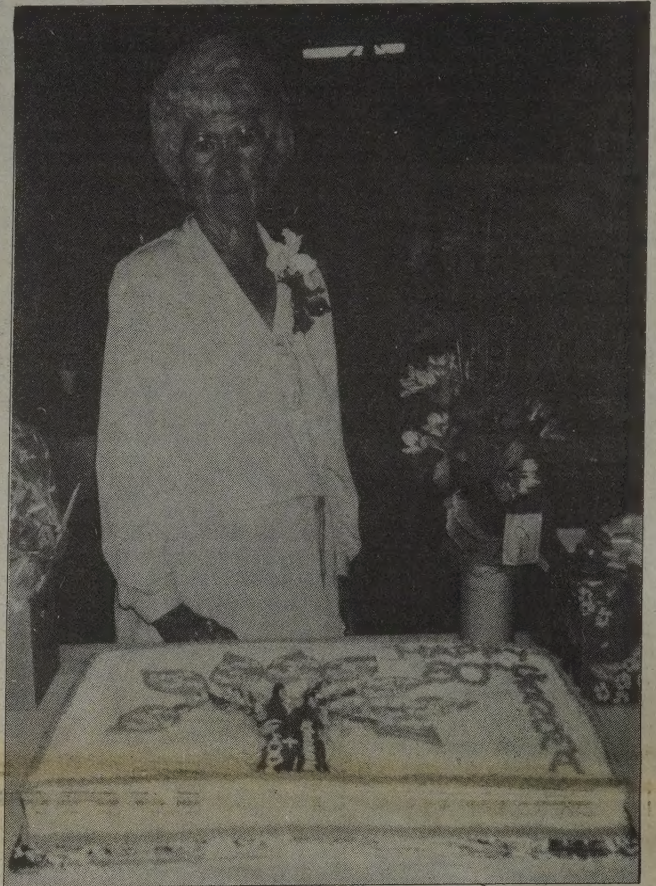

with a daughter near by, where she enjoys good health, her pastimes of knitting and sewing, caring for the yard and flowers, and a bit of travel now and then.

Over her retired years, Claudia has seen such distant points as Las Vegas, Whitehorse in the Yukon, Hawaii and California, and is currently off for a week's visit to Toronto with a grandson.

Claudia wants her family and friends to know she is thrilled and delighted with their thoughtfulness, and she thanks one and all for coming and 'making her day'. A lovely quilted photo album was presented to her, filled with pictures of her past, prepared by family members, as well as other gifts. Her most prized gift? Seeing her family all together, and so many friends, she says.

Many returns of the day, Claudia, with continuing good health and blue skies above!

CLAUDIA McGINNIS — 80 years young.

cil gave first reading to a Mutual Aid Firefighting Agreement contained in Bylaw 471/87 Monday night, which will now go to the County for their approval. Policy with respect to brush and grass fires was discussed, as were joint fire protection agreements with adjoining counties.

Three cited for heroism

The presentation of a Royal Canadian Humane Association certificate for heroism and presence of mind, as pictured in last week's issue, is not the whole story. Presentations to Richard Nelson, and later to Kevin Sveum, were preceded more than a year ago by a presentation of a similar certificate to David Ockerman, who also took part in the rescue of a woman and her two children, and the attempted rescue of her husband, on August 12, 1984, at Bluet Lake.

Ockerman, Nelson, and Sveum were also presented with certificates from the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in June of 1985, regarding the heroic actions in the incident.

Last week's information regarding attempted rescue of three individuals was in error, as only one person was unable to be rescued. Our apologies to Cst. Doug Huskins, whose name was inadvertently omitted from the photo caption.

Mural fund gets large boost

By Irene Magnusson
The Giant Mural, planned for the town of Elk Point and sponsored by the Elk Point and District Historical Society, receives a healthy boost to its funding, as Historical Society Chairman Frank Mayner accepts a cheque from J.G. (Gordon) LeDrew, Manager of the Elk Point Treasury Branch.

This is the first commercial donation, received to date, and swells the fund by $1,000, as the Historical Society has pledged to match all grants and donations. The $500 received from Mr. LeDrew shows the plan is being viewed enthusiastically and is considered as a good way to give the town a tourist attraction, and to honor our forefathers by depicting past activities since the first settlers of eighty years ago.

Several private donations have been received, and the committee looks forward to many more. The work is in progress, a spot picked out to display it, and won't a mural in living color eight feet high by 100 feet long make a great splash on the Elk Point scene?

We encourage any and all to add their bit to the good cause. Frank Mayner at the Toronto-Dominion Bank is in charge of the fund. Do see him soon.

Thank You

I, Jackie Gulayec, would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank the many people of Elk Point for making this Canada Day one I will never forget.

Thanks to the Elks for inviting me to ride on their float, the lovely jacket and trophy. I am very proud to be a provincial badminton champion and appreciate the recognition. Thanks to the Elks members Mr. Barwick, Mr. Pidluzny and Mr. Hanson for making this happen.

Thank you to Mrs. Florence Pinder for nominating me for Youth of the Year. This made me realize that the extra step I take for people was all worthwhile. So many times the good deeds young people do go unnoticed and I'm glad the people in our community are aware of these young folks. There are many kids out there going that extra mile and I believe they are all Youths of the Year. I'm proud to say I'm from Elk Point and honored to be Your Youth of the Year. This meant a great deal to me and I will keep it in my heart forever. Thanks to the Chamber of Commerce for the plaque and our MLA Mr. John Drobot for the Youth trophy. These both sit proudly in my home.

Thanks to my parents and my very special sister Carmen for standing by me and letting me grow.

Thank you to everyone for recognizing and appreciating the Youth.

Worth waiting for

It was a distinct pleasure, as well as a slight shock, on returning to Elk Point after a week of holidays, to drive right down a smooth, wide, detour-sign and barrier-free stretch of Highway 41, and right into the office parking lot, without a single hitch.

It's really finished!

Our narrow stretch of rough highway, edged with treacherous drainage ditches, has been turned into a broad and faultless expanse, edged with handsome new sidewalks, all the way from 54 Avenue to Railway Avenue. No more bumps, mud, bog-holes, soft gravel, dusty detours, and wondering "how do we get to work today?" No more wondering if people will be able to find their way to our office, and how many tourists will spend their entire vacation finding their way through town.

It's great!

Not only that, the streets which have been torn asunder are beginning to look like they too will soon be ready for paving. Won't it be a treat to go where we like without finding our way through a maze of construction?

Progress is not an instant procedure, and should not be expected to be. Good workmanship takes time to produce a quality product.

However, it is certainly nice to see these projects completed and usable.

Happy motoring!

THESE CHOKECHERRIES WERE BLOOMING — By my west corner a couple of years ago. I took my picture with the valley beyond. Next day they were wilted and dying — the weed-sprayer had passed by. Why did he kill these bushes? I'll never know.

Alberta Trails

Drive down any trail...

By Irene Magnusson

Drive Down Any Trail

One of the great pleasures of living in the country or a small town, is the ease with which we can reach a country road, and the pleasure a drive - or walk - along a country road can bring, especially in the summer.

I'm not necessarily referring to the smoothness of the road, or the general lack of frantic traffic, although these are part of it all. The backroads of this summer have seen a lot of dust flying, but lately have been blessed with more 'liquid sunshine' which has laid the dust, made puddles and squish, but has also brought on more color along the roadsides.

Following our drastic May snow-and-frost, it didn't seem we would see many wild flowers, they were so browned-down, de-budded and otherwise in a mess. Some have made amazing recoveries, for example the wild roses.

Wild roses are Alberta's heritage. We named it as our official flower, and with good cause. Once upon a time any roadside could be seen to glow with wild roses, pink and bright on cloudy days, paler to white when the sun shone brightly. They also graced many miles of fenceline; any wooded area was underlaid with roses. The wonderful scent of wild roses wafted on the air, in evening stirring us to poetic thoughts. In these last few years, there has been a sort of vendetta against wild roses, which grow to around two feet, the odd one attaining perhaps four feet in height, a fear that they will somehow manage to grow up and interfere with the powerlines, or eat the road or do some other unthinkable thing. So out come the spray machines, squirting poisonous chemicals along the roads, and sometimes well beyond the fences, destroying our heritage, fouling our wildflowers, making our roadsides bleak and unlovely, with withered grey shrubbery, NO roses, and leaving the land open to invasion by quackgrass and dandelions and very little else.

Other flowers our land was once rich in are tiger lilies (or orange lilies), lady slippers, violets, shooting stars, anemones, fireweed, crocus, sunflower - to say nothing of the miles of saskatoon blossoms and berries, the chokecherries, pincherries, wild raspberries, cranberries, wild strawberries, and many many more.

These were lovely, beautiful things, gracing our lives, feasting our eyes when we traveled and our tables when we picked them. So many - so VERY many - have been destroyed, for nothing, as far as I can see. Why are we doing this? Why are we allowing it to be done? I have yet to hear an argument that would convince me of the necessity of blanket roadside spraying. Nor can I see much excuse for the roadside slaughter that occurs with chainsaws every winter, to leave a trail of ugly stumps, of just the right height to wreck a vehicle if it drove over them, to make it impossible to walk, to look ugly and forlorn, and to catch any drifting snow around in winter.

We are somehow willing to spend thousand of dollars to entice tourists and visitors into our land, then we turn around and make it so unattractive, so ugly and that no one would want to drive our trails. And here we had all this lovely color, these trees and shrubs and bushes and berries - all free, already growing right where they can be best seen and admired, along our country trails.

Well, perhaps next time I drive out, I will have been made to be a liar, but so far this summer, I have not seen any fresh-wilted flowers along any roads, I've driven in my vicinity. Here we are well into the month of July, and the roses have bloomed (what few are left) unmolested, the fireweeds are purpling the roadsides, patches of Indian paintbrushes are giving a glow to the odd meadow, and miles of red clover, and white, alfalfa and vetch have been allowed to sweet-scent the ditches. I've spotted the odd orange lily, noticed bluebells in clumps, and drifts of nothern bedstraw along the way.

What is happening? Have we really come through a summer unsprayed??? It may merely mean the County ran a bit short of cash and decided to cut back - in which case I hope they stay short. It may mean a change in policy, a return to reason, an - at last! - realization of the damage being done to our wildlife and a resolve to 'go and sin no more'. If so, then hurrah and all praise.

How many of you said "No" to the powerline company when they came asking to spray under their lines again? Mine has been chewed under with a garburator (or mulcher) a couple of years ago, and all trees destroyed for about 30 feet wide, then spray-killed, and now a few pitiful rose bushes and vetch are trying to grow - nature's way of healing the insults we offer - and Alberta Power wants to spray it again! I told them to leave it for twenty years or so, until there is something that is a threat there, if ever, and so save themselves a pile of money. Meanwhile, if we can keep the county machines away, maybe there will be a few wild roses to smell next year - and a return to something like what our territory should look like ... a bloom with wild flowers ... something to invite us to drive down any trail, here in our should-be beautiful Alberta.

HOW CAN WE JUSTIFY SPRAYING THESE LOVELY WILD FLOWERS? — Here we have fireweed; bluebells and golden canola behind.

Horse show family fun

On Saturday, July 4, the Elk Point and District Light Horse Association held a Family Fun Show at Stoney Lake Stampede Grounds. The day was overcast but rain held off until the last event was over. Everyone had a great time and went home smiling. A very special thank you to Rob and Nora Davidson for donating their time and expertise as ringmaster and announcer. Also Marg Robinson and Jean Scaife for their patience and secretarial skills, contending with registration and paperwork. Many thanks to our judge Bev Hood, (from Gibbons, Alta.) for a job well done and helping in Gymkhana time keeping, along with Al Scaife. Thank you to all our show stewards and helpers and a special commendation to our show committee members who managed to put on a successful show at their first attempt, Marilyn and Bill Cochrane, Chris and Joe Wadley, Charlene and Bob Baker, Gary and Dianne Proski. Further Ed changes coming

Elk Point Further Education will be undergoing a number of changes this fall, including a one year trial separation from Lakeland College.

UPCOMING AUCTIONS

PEARMAN'S AUCTIONEERING SERVICES

Machinery Consignment Sale. Also some miscellaneous in Derwent, Alberta on Tuesday, July 28, 1987. Watch for future listings!!

This decision came at a June 29 meeting of the Elk Point and District Further Education Council, when it was reported that an earlier meeting between Council executive and Lakeland College officials detected a problem with the timesharing aspect of the partnership.

An evaluation committee consisting of Further Ed Council Chairman Margaret Modin, Past Chairman Laverne Wilson and Vice Chairman Sherry Young, have studied the situation at length, and brought a number of recommendations to the meeting.

In order to better meet the needs of the communities, extended office hours, with the coordinator totally involved with Further Education were decided upon. In addition to three afternoons per week, the office will be open until 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday evenings to accept registrations and answer inquiries during the fall term, on an experimental basis.

Increases in publicity and public relations were also decided upon, as was refurbishing of the Further Ed classroom. Increased involvement by all Council members was requested by the Evaluation Committee, who feel that these people should keep in touch with community needs and relate these to the Council at regular meetings throughout the year. It was decided that at least one Council member should attend each course to collect fees and do public relations work.

Council members will also be encouraged to attend any seminars pertaining to further education which are held in this region.

The Council agreed that Further Ed can still serve a need in the community, and with implementation of the recommended changes, "will enjoy revitalization and renewed growth."

Dewberry News

Congratulations to Wade Maltais of Calgary on completion of his two year course at DeVry Institute of Technology. Previously Wade worked for Domtar Building Materials for 10 years, until the plant closed down. Wade's mother, Mary Maltais from Dewberry, was happy and proud to attend the Convocation Ceremonies where Wade received his Electronic Technical Engineer diploma. It was held at the Jack Singer Concert Hall at Calgary on June 20, 1987.

Congratulations to Lorne and Elaine Timanson, who celebrated their 25th Wedding Anniversary. A huge crowd extended their good wishes to the happy couple at the party held at the Lea Park Camp Site, June 20, 1987.

Monica Garnier from Edmonton was visiting friends and relatives in the Dewberry area. While here, her daughter Dianne Maddex held a special party for her 65 Birthday, with approximately thirty attending.

Mrs. Ruby Thomson returned to her farm home on June 30, after spending her winter in Edmonton with her daughter Cora Powell. Tyson and Donna brought her home.

Audrey Rainey is working as Head Custodian at the newly renovated Heinsburg School. She is replacing Hazel Jenner, who retired.

Visiting Rev. Dave Shoop and family, were Dave's cousin Kent and wife Cathy from Bellevue, Washington. They were on tour across Canada, U.S. with their concert. On July 2 a large crowd enjoyed their concert of sacred gospel music, with refreshments and fellowship following, at the Greenlawn Gospel Church.

Marty and Terry Lynne Hines and family have just returned from spending a fabulous two weeks visiting with her relatives at Lyndonville, Vermont. They flew from Edmonton to Montreal where they were met at the airport and taken by car. The country was magnificently beautiful, and many sight seeing trips were enjoyed.

Lee and Alice Jones have enjoyed having their daughter Linda and family from Grande Prairie visiting with them.

On June 25, Hatti East attended the Grade Twelve Graduation of her granddaughter Kim, daughter of Bill and wife from Sherwood Park. The ceremony was held in the Alliance Church with the dinner and dance the following evening in the Edmonton Convention Centre.

Kim's future plans are taking an accounting program.

The boys' and girls' Minor Ball teams sponsored by the Dewberry Lion L's Club, ended their season June 29 with a potluck supper held at the Sports Grounds.

Lion L President, Phyllis Ewen, thanked everyone for their part in the supper, which was enjoyed by approximately 125 ball players and their families.

The Lion L's have sponsored the girls ball since 1965 and the boys ball the past three years. Last year over $600.00 was spent on equipment with $500.00 spent this year.

We are fortunate to have excellent coaches: Frances Bates, Sandra Braithwaite, Joan McDonald, Brian Fenton, Lyle Bates, Dorsey and Marilyn Butz, Tammy Butz, Cynthia Blacklock and Rev. Ted Norris.

They were given an applause of "Thanks" in appreciation.

A pleasant evening ended with ball games involving some of the parents.

On June 27, Alvin and Win Curtis attended the Stoney Lake Rodeo. An added attraction was Square Dancing on Horseback, which they thoroughly enjoyed.

Ron Walker, our Eastalta Co-op Manager, was the winner of the Agricultural Society Lottery draw for June 26, with Jack White from Heinsburg winning the July 3 draw.

Congratulations to Linda Craigie and Gerry Kjenner who exchanged marriage vows on June 27, 1987, at the Bethel Lutheran Church at Lea Park. They are making their home in the Heinsburg area.

Previously a huge bridal shower was held in the Dewberry Hall where friends and relatives presented Linda with their best wishes and gifts.

Seated at the head table with Linda were her four Grandmothers - Della Rudd, Therese Craige, Dot Harwood and Anna Bristow.
